Between Us

The donkey ball game Friday night seems to have been the initiation of night life for some of our very young society. Did you see Joe Pale Johnson so thrilled over the five-week-old donkey he begged to take it home? Joe has always had a weakness for rules, and seeing so many was almost too much for him. When little Frank Williams had a party last week, ranging in age from eight months to two years, were seated on the front row while the pictures were taken. Willie Woodcock (Bonnie and Willy's nine-month-old daughter) seems to know what it was all about. With her bonnet tucked on her head she gave a great big smile just in time. And already Anne and Albert McDougall are being carried off for a checking over. The doctor picked the two-month-old girl twin up and said, "Ladies first," so he had to wait while his sister did what is characteristic of all young ladies. Smiled and gracefully went first. When the first family meeting was called last week, Mr. Sherman was a little late. But as he had to be asked forgiveness, saying just fifteen years ago at that same hour he was standing before the altar saying, "I do." Surprising men Cowart is a combination of all the traits. So pretty, yet so unattractive, and the personality of a debutante. Heard a man say recently he was going to turn back the years some and just wait until he is a young lady to start dating. Some of our folks have spent the summer in Europe, others in California, and others not quite so far away; but the steel bridge is growing more popular every year, and you can find Mercille and Cecil Kennedy down there enjoying fishing and being. It really is beginning to look like a little city down there, and week ends always find some of our folks there. The P-T. A. reception Tuesday afternoon was really beautiful. And such an attractive facility in the receiving line. It would be hard to pick out the next year's laurels should go to Irene Enckes. She was lovely in a powder blue gown, and her young son, a beautiful high school girl that served corner Mr. Sherman off. However, he seemed to be enjoying it, but the crowd doesn't yet know what kept them so interested. Our town is already beginning to look rather different with some of the boys coming off for early football practice. Robert Hodges and Roy Hitt have gone to the University, the by next year you will probably see their names in big headlines in the line-up. By the way, aren't we so glad Gene L. Hodges is going to help bring up the score for our own T. C. With so many night games scheduled this promises to be a real thrill to our football fans. Will be right there when the whistle blows, but will see you next year.

BEYOND TOWN.

P-T-A. RECEPTION

On Tuesday afternoon the P-T-A. honored the teachers of the Statesboro High School with a reception at the Statesboro Hotel. The P-T-A. Patrons of the school were invited. The spacious room was most attractive in its bright summer dowers and green and white decorations. Mrs. Edwin Groover, chairman of the hospitality committee, welcomed the guests as they arrived, and Mrs. Tommie Rushing, president, headed the line to introduce them. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lee, H. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Chandler, R. A. Montgomery, Miss Edna Wade, Mrs. D. L. Deal, B. Williams, Miss Mary Lou Carmichael, Mrs. J. H. Groves, Miss Mary Wick, Miss Mary Castlederry, Miss E. M. Moss, Miss Sumner Thorpe, Miss Leslie Zetterower, Miss Mattie Lively, Miss Bertha Hagans, Miss Red Lindsey, Miss Mary Hogan, Miss Martha Donaldson, Miss Dorothy Brannan, Miss Mildred Curry, Miss Irene Enckes, Miss Hazel Watson, Miss Nell Collins, Miss Sallie Price, Dew Groover, Mrs. Linton G. Latner, Mrs. Verdie Hilliard.

Punch and sandwiches were served by the girls of the senior class from the prettily appointed tea table, on which a lace cloth was used, with a bowl of astors forming the centerpiece. Green and white tapers and silver trays filled with sandwiches were at intervals, and on each end were punch bowls. For the benefit of the honor guests, who were seated after the guests called, a lovely musical program was rendered. Miss Eleanor Moses, of the speech and voice department, gave a number of songs, and the girls joined in a group singing with Mrs. Roger Holland, Mrs. Edwin Groover, Mrs. Roy Weaver, Mrs. Waldo Floyd, Mrs. W. E. Harner and Miss Martha Donaldson.

OFF TO G. M. C.

Leaving for G. M. C. at Milledgeville, Tuesday to enter school were H. P. Jones, Charles Brannen, Hines Smith, Frederick Beasley, Emerson Anderson and Lucius Anderson.

ANNOUNCE COTTON ACREAGE QUOTAS

Indicate Only Amount of Limit On Which Compensation Payment Will Be Based.

Formal notice of the cotton acreage quota and the five-year normal yield per acre has been mailed all the way from the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 1938 in Bulloch county. These notices have no bearing on the cotton to be marketed for 1938 but indicate the amount of limit the 2.4 cents per pound soil conservation payment will be based on, when performance is certified to later in the year.

A farmer that is over-planted can eventually sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota free of penalty, or his marketing quota as listed on the formal notice, whichever is the largest. The farmer that cannot sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota, however, even though he may more than double his normal yield as indicated by the formal notice, John Powell, member of the county committee, explains.

Although there have not been many complaints filed relative to the yield prescribed in the notice, farmers are given a chance to file a complaint within 15 days after the notice was mailed if they are not satisfied with the yield or acreage. The record committee can examine the records submitted by the individual and ask him to sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota. However, the county and county committees have no further power to alter the figures on the notice other than correct errors. In every instance except one where a complaint was filed the yield designated by the committee was not higher than the producer turned in. Several efforts were made in the early spring to make certain these figures were turned in accurately. The complaints filed to date have been from farmers that did not turn in any record, or failed to turn in all of his cotton.

The normal yield for the past five years is 254 pounds for Bulloch on some 35,220 allotted acres of cotton, as against only 168 pounds under the old AAA program.

SEASON NEAR AT HAND FOR PLANTING GARDENS

September, October and November is the season to prepare for the winter and early spring garden.

The crops recommended for September planting are beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrot, collard, endive, kale, kohi rabi, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsnip, parsley, radish, spinach and turnip.

For November planting the crops recommended are asparagus, beets, cabbage, collard, dandelion, endive, kale, kohi rabi, leek, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsley, radish, rutabaga, spinach and turnip.

SWINE SITUATION

Expect Improved Prices In Demand to Increased Demand Throughout the Nation.

The new marketing year for hogs begins October 1st, and supplies during the year are expected to be materially larger than in the one now closing. But it is believed that the effect of these larger supplies upon hog prices for the year as a whole will be offset, at least in part, by the upward trend expected in consumer demand for meats.

Demand conditions this fall and winter probably will be much more stable than a year ago. Consequently less than the sharp drop in that period last year.

More hogs may be in the August-September slaughter supply this year than last, but seasonally fewer hogs than in the late spring and early summer. This larger slaughter supply compared with a year ago, will be largely offset by the smaller stocks of hog products in storage.

The upswing in hog production this year reflects largely the abundant feed supplies in most areas and the fact that corn prices have been low in relation to hog prices. The larger pig crops, however, represent only a partial recovery from the severe droughts of 1934 and 1936. With plentiful feed supplies from the year's harvests, it is probable that there will be a further increase in the number of pigs raised in 1939.

September, October and November is the season to prepare for the winter and early spring garden.

The crops recommended for September planting are beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrot, collard, endive, kale, kohi rabi, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsnip, parsley, radish, spinach and turnip.

For November planting the crops recommended are asparagus, beets, cabbage, collard, dandelion, endive, kale, kohi rabi, leek, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsley, radish, rutabaga, spinach and turnip.

NEW COTTON ACREAGE QUOTAS

Indicate Only Amount of Limit On Which Compensation Payment Will Be Based.

Formal notice of the cotton acreage quota and the five-year normal yield per acre has been mailed all the way from the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 1938 in Bulloch county. These notices have no bearing on the cotton to be marketed for 1938 but indicate the amount of limit the 2.4 cents per pound soil conservation payment will be based on, when performance is certified to later in the year.

A farmer that is over-planted can eventually sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota free of penalty, or his marketing quota as listed on the formal notice, whichever is the largest. The farmer that cannot sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota, however, even though he may more than double his normal yield as indicated by the formal notice, John Powell, member of the county committee, explains.

Although there have not been many complaints filed relative to the yield prescribed in the notice, farmers are given a chance to file a complaint within 15 days after the notice was mailed if they are not satisfied with the yield or acreage. The record committee can examine the records submitted by the individual and ask him to sell all the cotton he produces on the acreage quota. However, the county and county committees have no further power to alter the figures on the notice other than correct errors. In every instance except one where a complaint was filed the yield designated by the committee was not higher than the producer turned in. Several efforts were made in the early spring to make certain these figures were turned in accurately. The complaints filed to date have been from farmers that did not turn in any record, or failed to turn in all of his cotton.

The normal yield for the past five years is 254 pounds for Bulloch on some 35,220 allotted acres of cotton, as against only 168 pounds under the old AAA program.

The High School

HAVE NEW SET-UP IN CLASSROOM POSITION FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The senior classes, which formerly occupied the two large rooms in the second story of the high school, now are in the two new classrooms. The tenth grades occupy the two end rooms facing the gymnasium, with Mr. Chandler's room between the two rooms. The ninth grades are located in the two rooms at the opposite end of the hall. The two eighth grades are in the two rooms formerly occupied by the eleventh grades. The set-up seems ideal and students seem pleased with the change.

MISS CASTLEBERRY HAS FINE LIBRARY SERVICE

The Statesboro High School library is a fine place to be just now. The section for the library is the authority for this statement. Students merely call for the reference they desire and it seems that before the production of a book, they plan to write and produce some of their own work. This is only one of the number of very interesting programs already planned in the classrooms.

No time is wasted in the library. It is truly a pleasure to work in a room group quietly working away from a busy group. The library is a place where the student can find the answer to any question. The library is a place where the student can find the answer to any question.

HIGH SCHOOL BOASTS OF HIGHLY TRAINED FACULTY

Supt. S. H. Sherman, it seems, checks on everything under the sun in connection with S. H. S. This checking includes even the faculty. The faculty is highly trained and the school is a place where the student can find the answer to any question.
